

It ran, somebody else calls you fool.

It's an insult.

When you realize you're a fool.

That means you become smart enough to know that this happened to me on some before all this happened.

I was very smart.

So I thought and so everybody around me also supported and activities that I was performing at the time and the results that It produced.

But one day, I went up a small hill.

And I realized it was an utter fool.

Since then everything has been fantastic.

So beautiful.

It's a damn good thing, but don't tell anybody like this.

If something bigger than yourself happens to you,.

something way bigger than yourself happens to you.

Then naturally you feel like a damn fool.

You are the biggest thing in the universe.

You think you're smart, but you are a bloody fool.
