

Hi everyone.

My name is Mona and I lost my mother 6 months back and into almost into a depression and notebooks.

And my life is like for to do photo and I'm just looking for a man who can bring me out of this thing.

That's how I joined your to a girl was session in my journey of life where I was lacking confidence.

I don't like no one loves me and I myself was not having a relationship, so that's how I joined.

It was, it was cold and I must see how things go.

Drastically changed in my relationships, in my life, with my own self with my career.

She noticed that the power is dead.

Send us to achieve anything but we want.

I am.

I'm loving myself.

Like I'm actually falling in love again.

With my own cells like that, love is.

I cannot share that menopause is koala.

Love with my own self regarding my carrier and Homemaker.

I always wanted to teach something to kids I started my summer camp where I had a new like only two kids initially enrolled in my stomach and the tools and techniques which like trash to me.

within a week.

I got it means after that it was endless.

I was getting names like to know with the word of mouth.

I was like enjoying the camp and the kids were not ready to go home at all.

And there was a time that I have to say that I have to take a break and I will come back again.

All this was only and only possible I got the purpose in my life and that was only possible of the do.

And my big, big, big gratitude to you.

And thank you.

Thank you so much for everything you have done.

I got the purpose in my life and that was only possible of the do.

And my big, big, big gratitude to you.

And thank you.

Thank you so much for everything you have done.
